Across the Meadow

Founder's Tribute

Since 1984, from a vision in the mind of Mrs. Carolyn G. Goodman, a traditional college preparatory school has evolved, grown, and matured under the stewardship of its founders to become the premier institution of educational excellence in Nevada.

Located in Las Vegas, The Meadows School has earned a reputation for excellence not only in the United States but internationally as well. It is recognized as Nevada's only pre-kindergarten through twelfth grade private, nonprofit, nonsectarian college preparatory school that places 100 percent of its graduates in four-year accredited colleges and universities.

Serving academically able and ambitious students, The Meadows School is committed to enrolling a diverse student body who share daily life in a healthy, integrated, multi-racial, multi-cultural, and socio-economically mixed experience.

The life-size, high-realism detailed bronze sculpture of Mrs. Goodman was commissioned and presented to her during the School's 25th Anniversary celebration to honor her contribution to the School and in recognition of her impact upon education in Nevada.

An avid book reader, Mrs. Goodman is permanently depicted gazing "Across the Meadow" of the School campus while reviewing four of her favorite pieces of literature.
